1. World Environment Day, Start Today, Save tomorrow: An initiative of P.G. Dept. of Zoology

World Environment Day is the biggest awareness campaign launched by the United Nations in the early 70s which is celebrated across the world on June 5 every year to cherish the nature that's around us. This year, the World Health Organisation (WHO) has joined hands with the United Nations. It will be working on the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration along with other collaborators like the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO).

The theme of World Environment Day 2021 is 'Reimagine. Recreate. Restore.' The theme is based on the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration, which will be launched by the United Nations this year. It is a 10-year plan to work on stopping environmental degradation.

In this context an Awareness program on World Environment Day, Start Today, Save tomorrow: An initiative of P.G. Dept. of Zoology was held online. 10 PG students were participated.

World Zoonoses Day is a global awareness day held every 6 July, the anniversary of the day in 1885 when Louise Pasteur successfully administered the first vaccine against rabies. In 2021, it comes once again in the midst of the SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) pandemic, a disease of zoonotic (animal) origin. To date, 3.9 million deaths from COVID-19 have been reported to the World Health Organization.

Our Students, BSc Hons SEM-II, Department of Zoology, aimed to boost up the level of knowledge and of awareness about the several important zoonotic diseases.

3. Poster competition for awareness program of students on combating covid 19, fight against corona virus was conducted by Department of Zoology, Barasat Govt. College.

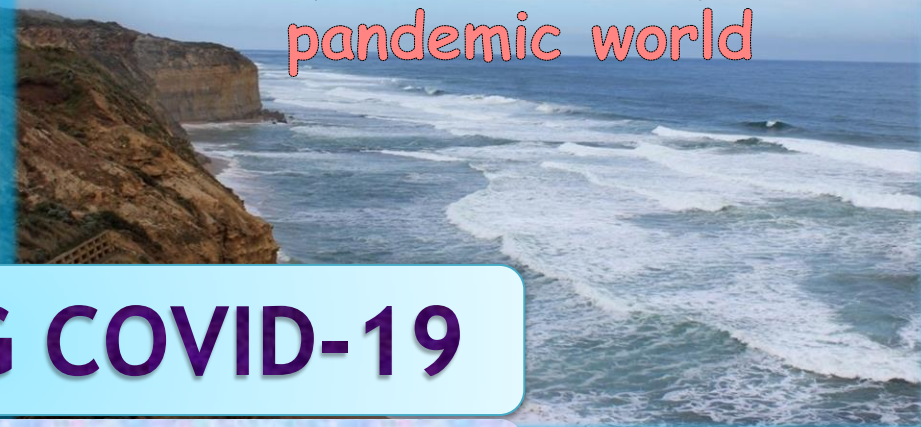

Department of Zoology, Kolkata is extremely pleased to express gratitude towards all the participants who have provided this college the bliss to experience a share of their artistry by submitting soft copies of artworks. We are overwhelmed by the response while receiving more than 150 soft copies from the undergraduate and postgraduate students of several disciplines all over the state.

The Honorable judges, after they had finalized the results, admitted that it was an uphill task for them to select winners from such talented participants. They found most of the submissions from the participants equally attractive and deserving. It was their advice that the participants who missed out from winning the prizes should not be disheartened and maintain their good work and enthusiasm with confidence.

We convey best wishes to all the participants for their bright future and good health. The Names of the winners and their artworks have been published and we believe that these artworks may create public awareness and bring in a holistic approach to combat COVID-19.

Short report on the “Program Outcome” Surviving in a Covid World: Major Issues of India, Organized by Barasat Government College on 3 September 2020

COVID-19 has turned the world upside down. Everything has been impacted. How we live and interact with each other, how we work and communicate, how we move around and travel. Every aspect of our lives has been affected or altered. Although the world was in lockdown, governments, epidemiologists, school principals, entrepreneurs and families around the world are already planning the next steps: how to safely reopen schools and businesses, how to commute and travel without transmitting or contracting infection, how to support those most affected by the crisis – the millions who have lost their livelihoods or their loved ones, how to ensure the already serious inequalities don't deteriorate further.

In this context our institution organized a webinar which was very much related to research methodologies based on recent researches and statistics of Covid 19 entitled “Surviving in a Covid World: Major Issues of India”, Organized by Barasat Government College.

The speakers were

Prof. Dr. Basab Chaudhuri, Vice-Chancellor, West Bengal State University

Prof. Dr. Bhramar Mukherjee, John D. Kalbfleisch Collegiate Professor & Chair, Dept. of Biostatistics; Professor, Dept. of Epidemiology, University of Michigan, Recipient of L. Adrienne Cupples Award 2020 (Boston University). She spoke on The Crisis of Virus in India: From Epidemiology Models to Seroprevalence Surveys

Prof. Dr. Pranab Kumar Bhattacharya, Professor & HoD, Dept. of Pathology, Calcutta School of Tropical Medicine, Fellow of Royal Society of Tropical Medicine & Hygiene (UK), Recipient of Life Time Achievement Award 2019. His topic was Etiopathogenesis Pathology, Clinical Features of Covid19.

Total participant was 283.

Real-time training during global emergencies is critical for effective preparedness and response. The COVID-19 channel provides learning resources for health professionals, decision-makers and the public for the outbreak of coronavirus disease (COVID-19). As the outbreak continues to evolve, new resources will be added and existing courses will be updated to best reflect the changing context. The report also provided a glimpse into the challenges facing national statistical offices at the moment. At a time when statistics are most needed, many statistical systems are struggling to compile basic statistics, highlighting once again the need to invest in data and statistics, and the importance of having modern national statistical systems and data infrastructure.

Although a wide range of topics are covered in this report, a consistency of message is clear – this is an unprecedented crisis, and no aspect of our lives is immune.
